Question No: 50 (Marks: 3)
A joint venture is a good option in making alliance. What factors contribute in the success of a joint venture?

With the increase in business risks, hyper-competition, and failures, joint ventures have increased. A joint venture is a separate entity involving two or more participants as partners. They involve a wide range of partners, including universities, businesses, and the public sector.

Factors in Joint Venture Success
One critical factor for success is the accurate assessment of the parties involved and how best to manage the new entity. A second factor involves the symmetry between the partners. Another factor is that the expectations about the results of the joint venture must be reasonable. The final factor is the timing. A joint venture should be considered as one of many options for supplementing the resources of the firm.

Discuss Small Business Innovation Research Grant Program along with its various phases.

The Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) grant program helps entrepreneurs obtain federal grant money to develop an innovative idea. The act requires all federal agencies to share a portion of the R&D funds with small businesses. This provides a uniform method of soliciting, evaluating, and selecting research proposals. Eleven agencies are involved in the program. Small businesses submit proposals directly to each agency. The agencies evaluate each proposal on a competitive basis and make awards. The SBIR grant program has three phases. Phase I awards are up to $50,000 for six months of feasibility-related experimental or theoretical research. Phase II is the principal R&D effort. Phase II awards are up to $500,000 for 24 months of further research and development. The money is to be used to develop prototype products. In Phase III funds from other sources, such as the private sector or regular government contracts, are needed to commercialize the developed technologies.

Why small and medium enterprises suit in Pakistani environment? Discuss reasons.

Financial Problem (lack of Finance) stood out as the major problem of SME’s in Pakistan. The findings show that very few small businesses have ever received a bank loan. They generally start the business with personal savings and loan from family and friends. Their working capital and investment needs are met from their profit or from purchases or credit and advance from customers. Only 4% of the small businesses interviewed during this survey had ever contacted the Small Business Finance Corporation. The small businesses interviewed in the survey considered taxes, corruption and high price of utilities especially electricity as three of their major grievances against the government. The Gallup study has identified and summarized sixty different Government laws which affect small businesses. Many of these laws, says the study, need to be reformed or repealed. The Gallup survey shows that 40% of small businesses employ apprentices or shagirds and train them. Many of these shagirds acquire their know how from their employers and subsequently start their own small businesses. The findings of the Gallup survey were discussed in three roundtable discussions at IBA, Karachi University, LUMS Lahore and Allama Iqbal Open University in Islamabad in the month of February 2001. Gallup invited policymakers, practitioners and academics in these roundtable discussions to seek their views on what may be the solutions to the problems of small business in Pakistan.

Question No: 53 (Marks: 5 )
What is asset based financing? How can it help the entrepreneur to start his business?

Asset-based loans are usually from commercial finance companies (as opposed to banks) that are offered on a revolving basis and collateralized by a company's assets, specifically accounts receivable and inventory.

Appropriate for: Companies that may be rapidly growing, highly leveraged, in the midst of a turnaround or undercapitalized. In addition, asset-based financing works only for companies with proven accounts receivable, and a demonstrated track record of turning over their inventory several times each year.

Supply: Overall, the supply of asset-based financing is vast. A large number of commercial finance companies, as well as many banks, have massive pools of capital to lend to businesses. However, for asset-based loans of $500,000 or less, the market is considerably smaller. Most asset-based lenders would prefer to make larger loans because the cost to monitor an asset-based loan is generally the same whether it's large or small.

Best Use: Financing rapid growth in the absence of sufficient equity capital to fund receivables and inventory. Well suited to manufacturers, distributors and service companies with a leveraged balance sheet whose seasonal needs and industry cycles often hamper their cash flow. Asset-based loans can also be used to finance acquisitions.

Cost: More expensive than bank financing, since asset-based lenders generally have higher expenses than bankers. Still, pricing is competitive among asset-based lenders. Small asset-based loans can be pricey, though, running 12 percent to 28 percent. Funds typically available are $100,000 and greater.

Ease of Acquisition: Comparatively easy if your company has good financial statements, good reporting systems, and inventory that is not exotic and, finally, customers who have a track record of paying their bills. If you don't have any of these, your path to an asset-based loan will be challenging.

Question No: 51 (Marks: 5)
What are the flexibilities that the law provides to S corporations?
The S Corporation combines the tax advantages of the partnership and the corporation.

1. It is designed so that the venture income is declared as personal income on a pro rata basis.
2. Shareholders benefit from all of the income and the deductions of the business.

Prior to passage of the 1996 Small Business Protection Act, rules governing the S corporation were considered too rigid.
The new law provides more flexibility with regard to:

a. Number of shareholders.
b. Who can be allowed to own shares?
c. The role of trusts as stockholders.
d. The ability of S corporations to own more than 90 percent of stock of another corporation.
e. Distribution of profits.
f. Issuance of different classes of stock.
g. Rules affecting the tax basis of incurred loses.

Limited liability corporations are still more flexible than the S corporation, but conversion entails a significant cost. More than half of all S corporations have only one shareholder, which would not be possible as an LLC.

Why it is recommended that entrepreneurs should write cheques weekly? Why should the cancelled cheques be kept and maintained by the entrepreneurs?

Writing checks is one of those activities which, like driving, becomes so ordinary that we can’t see the potential hazards we face every time we do it.

But every time we use a check to make a payment there is a real potential that it can fall into the wrong hands exposing us to a one time loss of money or worse, the outright theft of our identity.

One example of what a thief could do with your check is a process called “check washing”. The check is soaked in a solution using bleach or other household chemicals causing the ink to wash off the check. The thief can remove all handwritten ink from the check and rewrite it as he pleases, or he could wash certain entries, like the amount, while preserving your signature for presentation.

Once a check is approved and all appropriate accounts involved have been credited, the check is stamped with some kind of cancellation mark, such as a "paid" stamp. The check is now a cancelled check. Cancelled check is placed in the account holder's file. The account holder can request a copy of a cancelled check as proof of a payment. This is known as the check clearing cycle.

Check can be lost or go astray within the cycle, or be delayed if further verification is needed in the case of suspected fraud. A check may thus bounce some time after it has been deposited.

Question No: 53 (Marks: 5)
How the costs and profits may be managed by the entrepreneurs, keeping in view the importance of interim income statement?

MANAGING COSTS AND PROFITS
An interim income statement helps to compare the actual with the budgeted amount for that period. The most effective use of the interim income statement is to establish cost standards and compare the actual with the budgeted amount for that time period. Costs are budgeted based on percentages of net sales. These percentages can be compared with actual percentages to see where tighter cost controls may be necessary. This lets the entrepreneur manage and control costs before it is too late. In later years, it is also helpful to look back on the first year of operation and make comparisons month-to-month. When expenses or costs are much higher than budgeted, the entrepreneur may need to determine the exact cause. Comparison of actual and budgeted expenses can be misleading for ventures with multiple products or services. For financial reporting purposes, the income statement summarizes expenses across all products and services. This does not indicate the marketing cost for each product nor should the most profitable product. Allocating expenses over product lines be done as effectively as possible to avoid arbitrary allocation of costs.

What are the flexibilities that the law provides to S corporations?
The S Corporation combines the tax advantages of the partnership and the corporation.
1. It is designed so that the venture income is declared as personal income on a pro rata basis.
2. Shareholders benefit from all of the income and the deductions of the business.
Prior to passage of the 1996 Small Business Protection Act, rules governing the S corporation were considered too rigid.
The new law provides more flexibility with regard to:
- Number of shareholders.
- Who can be allowed to own shares?
- The role of trusts as stockholders.
- The ability of S corporations to own more than 90 percent of stock of another corporation.
- Distribution of profits.
- Issuance of different classes of stock.

Question No: 41 (Marks: 5)
What are the different reasons that lead to the failure of some business plans?

A poorly prepared business plan can be blamed on:
- Goals set by the entrepreneurs that are unreasonable.
- Goals those are not measurable.

To be successful:
- Goals should be specific.
- They should also be measurable and should be monitored over time.

The entrepreneur who has not made a total commitment to the business will not be able to meet the venture’s demands of the venture. Investors will not be positive about a venture that does not have full-time commitment. Investors will typically expect the entrepreneur to make significant financial commitment to the business. Lack of experience will result in failure unless the entrepreneur can gain knowledge or team up with someone. The entrepreneur should also document customer needs before preparing the plan.

Question No: 42  (Marks: 5)
What is Small Business Administration Loans? In what circumstances they are used by entrepreneurs?

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION LOANS:
A. When an entrepreneur is unable to secure a regular commercial bank loan, an alternative is a Small Business Administration (SBA) Guaranty Loan.
1. The SBA guarantees that 80% of the loan will be repaid to the bank by the SBA if the company can’t pay.
2. This allows the bank to make loans that have higher risks.
3. This procedure is the same as for securing a bank loan, except that government forms and documentation are required.
B. Both long and short-term loans can be guaranteed by the SBA.
1. A maximum loan period of 15 years on existing buildings and 20 years on new construction can be obtained.
2. For inventory, equipment, or working capital, a maximum of 10 years is available, although five years is the usual.
3. Once the application has been filled out, it usually is processed within 15 days.
4. There are additional reporting requirements beyond those for a conventional bank loan.
5. Since there is no difference in interest rates charged between conventional bank loans and SBA-guaranteed loans, a commercial bank loan is usually better.
6. A good banking relationship is very valuable as the venture grows.
C. For most SBA loans, there is no limit to the amount of loan money requested, but there is practical limit of $1 million.
1. The vast majority of small businesses are eligible for financial assistance from the SBA.
2. As defined by the Small Business Act, a small business is independently owned and operated and not dominant in its field of operation.
3. The size limits of a small business vary from industry to industry.
4. The proceeds of the loans can be used for almost any business purpose.
5. The interest rates are negotiated between the entrepreneur and the bank, but there are subject to SBA maximums.

Question No: 43  (Marks: 10)
Suppose you are working in ABC Company as Marketing Manager. Your company wants to launch a new venture in the Service based business. What steps your marketing plan will include?

STEPS IN PREPARING THE MARKETING PLAN
Step 1: Defining the Business Situation
The situation analysis is a review of where the company has been and considers many of the environmental factors. The entrepreneur should provide a review of past performance of the product and the company. Industry analysis should include information on market size, growth rate, suppliers, new entries, and economic conditions.

Step 2: Defining Target Market/Opportunities and Threats
The entrepreneur should have a good idea of who the customer or target market will be. The defined target market will usually represent one or more segments of the entire market. Market segmentation is the process of dividing the market into smaller homogeneous groups. The process of segmenting is:
- Decide what general market or industry you wish to pursue.
- Divide the market into smaller groups based on characteristics of the customer.
- Segment or segments to target.
- Develop marketing plan integrating the parts of the marketing mix.

Step 3: Considering Strengths and Weaknesses
It is important for the entrepreneur to consider its strengths and weaknesses.

Step 4: Establishing Goals and Objectives
Before strategy decisions can be outlined, the entrepreneur must establish realistic marketing goals and objectives. These answer the question "Where do we want to go?"
These goals should specify such things as market share, profit, sales, market penetration, pricing policy, and advertising support. Not all goals and objectives must be quantified. It is a good idea to limit the number of goals to between six and eight.

Step 5: Defining Marketing Strategy and Action Programs
Strategy and action decisions respond to the question "How do we get there?" It incorporates:

1. Product or Service
   This includes a description of the product and may include more than the physical characteristics. It involves packaging, brand name, price, warranty, image, service, features, and style.

2. Customer Service
   - Meeting customer needs and creating loyalty involves a number of low-cost steps:
     - In writing develop a statement of customer service principles. Train those employees who have direct contact with customers.
     - Establish a process for evaluating customer service.
     - Reward employees who are most effective in providing quality customer service.
     - Make regular contact with customers.
     - Invest in quality telephone equipment.
     - Meet customer expectations.
     - Customer service is especially important for e-businesses.

3. Pricing.
   One of the difficult decisions is determining the appropriate price for the product. Factors such as costs, discounts, freight, and markups must be considered. Marketing research can help determine a reasonable price that consumers are willing to pay.

Note: Solve these papers by yourself
This VU Group is not responsible for any solved content
4. Distribution.
This factor provides utility or makes the product convenient to purchase when it is needed. This variable must be consistent with other marketing mix variables. Type of channel, number of intermediaries and location of members should be described. Regardless of the type of business, it is usually necessary for the new venture to have a website. The Internet will become an increasingly important medium for information and distribution. Direct mail or telemarketing may be considered. Direct mail marketing is one of the simplest and lowest in entry costs. But the direct-marketing or Internet strategies are not a guarantee for success. The entrepreneur should evaluate all possible options for distribution.

5. Promotion.
The entrepreneur needs to inform customers as to the product’s availability using advertising media such as print, radio, or television. Usually television is too expensive unless cable television is a viable option. Larger markets can be reached using direct mail, trade magazines, or newspapers. A website may also create awareness and promote the product and services of the venture. It is possible to make use of publicity as a means of introduction. It is important that the marketing strategy and action programs be specific and detailed enough to guide the entrepreneur through the first year.

Step 6: Coordination of the Planning Process
The management team must coordinate the planning process. The entrepreneur may be the only person involved but may lack experience in preparing the plan. Assistance is available from many sources, such as the SBA.

Step 7: Designing Responsibility for Implementation
The plan must be implemented effectively to meet all of the desired goals and objectives. Someone must take the responsibility for implementing each decision made in the marketing plan.

Step 8: Budgeting the Marketing Strategy
Planning decisions must also consider the costs involved in the implementation of these decisions. This budgeting will be useful in preparing the financial plan.

Step 9: Implementation of the Marketing Plan
The marketing plan is meant to be a commitment to a specific strategy. A commitment to make adjustments as needed by market conditions is also valuable.

Step 10: Monitoring Progress of Marketing Actions
Monitoring of the plan involves tracking specific results of the marketing effort. What is monitored is dependent on the specific goals and objectives outlined.

Question No: 44 (Marks: 10)
Suppose you are hired by an entrepreneur who is not capable of assessing the need of financial plan. How would you suggest him the basic characteristics of good financial plan?

THE FINANCIAL PLAN

Note: Solve these papers by yourself

www.vuaskari.com
A. The financial plan provides a complete picture of:
1. How much and when the funds are coming into the organization.
2. Where the funds are going.
3. How much cash is available?
4. The projected financial position of the firm.

B. The financial plan provides the short-term basis for budgeting and helps prevent a common problem—lack of cash.

C. The financial plan must explain how the entrepreneur will meet all financial obligations and maintain its liquidity.

D. In general, the financial plan will need three years of projected financial data for outside investors.

OPERATING AND CAPITAL BUDGETS

A. Before developing the pro forma income statement, the entrepreneur should prepare operating and capital budgets.
1. If the entrepreneur is a sole proprietor, he or she will be responsible for the budgeting decisions.
2. In a partnership, or where employees exist, the initial budgeting process may begin with one of these individuals.
3. Final determination of budgets will ultimately rest with the owners or entrepreneurs.

B. In the preparation of the pro forma income statement, the entrepreneur must first develop a sales budget, an estimate of the expected volume of sales by month.
1. From sales forecasts, the entrepreneur will determine the cost of these sales.
2. Estimated ending inventory will also be included.

C. Production or Manufacturing Budget.
1. This budget provides a basis for projecting cash flows for the cost of goods produced.
2. The important information in this budget is the actual production required each month and the needed inventory to allow for changes in demand.
3. This budget reflects seasonal demand or marketing programs, which can increase demand and inventory.
4. The operating budget is an important document, as the pro forma income statement will only reflect the actual costs of goods.

D. Operating Budget.
1. Next the entrepreneur can focus on operating costs.
2. Fixed expenses (incurred regardless of sales volume) include rent, utilities, salaries, interest, depreciation, and insurance.
3. The entrepreneur will need to calculate variable expenses, which may change from month to month depending on sales volume, such as advertising and selling expenses.

E. Capital budgets are intended to provide a basis for evaluating expenditures that will impact the business for more than one year.
1. A capital budget may project expenditures for new equipment, vehicles, or new facilities.
2. These decisions can include the computation of the cost of capital and the anticipated return on investment using present value methods.

Question No: 45 (Marks: 10)

When and why the Punjab Small Industries Corporation (PSIC) was established? How it is helpful in promoting small industries?

Punjab Small Industries Corporation (PSIC)

In the province of Punjab, PSIC was established in 1972 as an autonomous body for the promotion and development of the small-scale industries in the province. The PSIC covers the critical areas of investment promotion and provision of credits for setting up new industries and modernization of the existing ones. It also promotes the common facility center, technology transfer, guidance, handicrafts development, and design facilities.

(a) Financing and Loans

PSIC is providing two types of loans to its clients, working capital and capital investment loans. The maximum limit of loan is RS. 7.5 Lac. There are district officers appointed for monitoring the loan recovery and in the case of unrecoverable loans, they are transferred to the revenue authorities. PSIC has managed to recover 81.6% of all loans given out. Disbursing Rs. 1768.537 million to 6339 units through its 8 regional offices (till 31-02-2001) the debt equity ratio for loan up to Rs. 7.5 Lac is 70:30.

(b) Industrial Estates

PSIC has developed 14 industrial estates in various areas of the Punjab. The costs of land within these industrial states have been subsidized to allow the development of the small-scale sector.

(c) Services and Programs

PSIC has also launched “Rural Industrialization Program” to control unemployment and strengthen the marginal household income through stimulation of industrial growth in the urban and rural areas of the Punjab. PSIC has established various types of service centers e.g. metal industries development center, Sialkot, Engineering service centers, Gujranwala, institute of pottery development, Shahdara etc.

Question No: 43  (Marks: 10)
Why the firms use bootstrap financing? What are the benefits of having this approach? Whether this approach minimizes the cost of outside capital?

BOOTSTRAP FINANCING

Bootstrap financing is particularly important at start-up and early years of the venture when capital is more expensive. This type of financing is normally used and important at the start up of the years. Bootstrap financing is using at early years of the project when capital is more costly.

Benefits

1. By this project can start smoothly.
2. In every project a company needs a finance to start the project therefore this type of financing help to start the project smoothly.
3. To handle the project initiation expanses this financing helps a lot.
4. In those projects in which advance payment is not involved this financing is required.
5. In those projects in which time is a constraint and important factor, this type of financing is used.
6. When capital is available then project speed will be faster at start and it helps for smooth completion of project.

Cost of Outside Capital:

By using this approach cost of the outside capital is reduced and it is easy for a firm to make more profit. Normally cost of outside capital decreases a company capacity to make more money. If outside capital is present then it can decrease the company’s flexibility and hinder the creativity of the entrepreneur. Therefore outside capital may cause more trouble and problems in the project. Therefore outside capital only taken after exploring the all internal sources of funds.

Outside capital has many costs:

1. It takes time to rise outside capital when the company can least afford the time.
2. Outside capital often decreases a firm’s drive to make money.
3. The availability of capital increases the impulse to spend.
4. Outside capital can decrease the company’s flexibility and hamper the creativity of the entrepreneur.
5. Outside capital may cause more disruption and problems in the venture than without it.

In spite of these potential problems, an entrepreneur at times needs equity funding.

1. Outside capital should only be sought after all possible internal sources of funds have been explored.
2. When outside funds are obtained, the entrepreneur should not forget the basics of the business.

This statement is true. Because we see China is the most powerful economy in the world just because of Industrialization. In china many small industry are present due to which china capture the whole world market. Therefore China has trillion of reserve in their banks.

From last 5-10 years, India has gone very much ahead of Pakistan, just because of this. India change his progressive plan and strong and build new industry by giving support to their people. Therefore if Pakistan needs to grow more, we should realize it and build more and more industry.

Question No: 45  (Marks: 10)

Do you believe that in our society women are not encouraged to take part in the process of entrepreneurship? Discuss in detail with reference to current prevailing situation in Pakistan.

It is right that in our society women are not encouraged to take part in the process of entrepreneurship. Because of cultural and male oriented society, women are not encouraged. In fact both genders in any society constitutes of about half of population, and in Pakistan too. Both genders are taking part in labor force and in education, in fact women are ahead in education than man.

Women entrepreneurship is called as new concept in our market. And many male business men are tending to remain women in labor force rather than a businesswoman. The business environment for women in Pakistan is complex because of social, cultural, traditional elements. And women entrepreneur have to face more problems and hindrance as financially, economically, culturally and legally.

But now the situation is changing and Pakistani women are more entering in entrepreneurship now days. Now women are in more than 70 percent of all business and now own more than 8.5 million small businesses. There is an increase of about 45% from 1990s. Concepts of starting the business in both genders are same like strong interest, passion, experience etc.

Pakistan government is also interested to give experience to women in different fields which give them confidence for their own business. Pakistani women is now engaged in different business areas like, textile, fashion designing, handicrafts, clothes boutiques etc. Women are involved in many small businesses.

The Government of Pakistan is doing well for women in our society and the contribution they can make towards economic development. As we know that woman as entrepreneur opened their own chamber of commerce. The woman bank is now present and many women are entering into this field.

think that it is a correct statement?

Advertising agencies can provide many promotional services. The advertising agency is an independent business organization composed of creative and business people who develop, prepare, and place advertising in media for its customers. The agency can provide assistance in marketing research. It is important to determine whether the agency can fulfil all of the needs of the new venture. A checklist of items that the entrepreneur may consider in evaluating an agency is useful. The agency should support the marketing program and assist the entrepreneur in getting the product effectively launched.

Question No: 42  (Marks: 5)
Why a business plan is valuable to the entrepreneur, potential investor or even new personnel?

The business plan must be comprehensive enough to address the concerns of employees, investors, bankers, venture capitalists, suppliers, and customers. Three perspectives need to be considered: The entrepreneur understands the new venture better than anyone. The marketing perspective considers the venture through the eyes of the customer. The investor looks for sound financial projections. The depth of the business plan depends on the size and scope of the proposed venture.

The business plan is valuable to the entrepreneur and investors because:
1. It helps determine the viability of the venture in a designated market.
2. It gives guidance in organizing planning activities.
3. It serves as an important tool in obtaining financing. Potential investors are very particular about what should be included in the plan. The process of developing a business plan also provides a self-assessment of the entrepreneur. This self-evaluation requires the entrepreneur to think through obstacles that might prevent the venture’s success. It also allows the entrepreneur to plan ways to avoid such obstacles.

HOW DO POTENTIAL LENDERS AND INVESTORS EVALUATE THE PLAN

Because the business plan should address the needs of all the potential evaluators, software packages and Internet samples should be used only to assist in preparation. As the entrepreneur becomes aware of who will read the plan, changes will be necessary. Suppliers may want to see a business plan before signing a contract to supply products or services. Customers may also want to review the plan before buying the product. The business plan should consider the needs of these constituencies. Potential suppliers of capital will vary in their needs and requirements in the business plan. Lenders are primarily interested in the ability of the new venture to pay back the debt and focus on the four C’s of credit:
1. The entrepreneur’s credit history or character.
2. Their ability to meet debt and interest payments (cash flow.)
3. The collateral or tangible assets being secured.
4. Equity contribution or the amount of personal equity that has been invested by the entrepreneur.

Investors provide large sums of capital for ownership (equity) and expect to cash out within 5 to 7 years. They will often place more emphasis on the entrepreneur’s calendar than lenders. The venture capitalist will play an important role in management of the business and wants the entrepreneurs to be pliable and willing to accept this involvement. These investors will also demand high rates of return and will thus focus on the market and financial projections. If the entrepreneur does not consider the needs of these sources, the plan may be an internalized document without consideration of the feasibility of meeting market goals. Most external advisors and potential investors are bound by a professional code of ethics regarding disclosure.

Question No: 43  (Marks: 10)
Suppose you are working on your Automobile business. After a year you want to know the financial position of your business. In this context what ratios you will use to find out the actual running of your business?

To know the financial position and actual running of the business i will measure financial ratios of this company. Some financial ratios i will measure are as follows.

Liquidity Ratios:
Current ratio is commonly used to measure the short-term solvency of the venture or its ability to meet its short-term debts. The current liabilities must be covered from cash or its equivalent. The formula is:

\[ \text{Current ratio} = \frac{\text{current assets}}{\text{current liabilities}} \]

While a ratio of 2:1 is generally considered favourable the entrepreneur should also compare this ratio with industry standards.

Acid test ratio:
Acid test ratio is a more rigorous test of the short-term liquidity of the venture.
It eliminates inventory, which is the least liquid current asset. The formula is:

\[ \text{Acid test} = \frac{\text{current assets} - \text{inventory ratio}}{\text{current liabilities}} \]

Usually a 1:1 ratio would be considered favourable.

Activity Ratios:
Average collection period indicates the average number of days it takes to convert accounts receivable into cash. This ratio helps gauge the liquidity of accounts receivable or the ability of the venture to collect from its customers. The formula:

\[ \text{Average collection period} = \frac{\text{Accounts Receivable}}{\text{Average daily sales}} \]

This result needs to be compared to industry standards.

Inventory turnover:
Inventory turnover measures the efficiency of the venture in managing and selling its inventory. A high turnover is a favourable sign indicating the venture is able to sell its inventory quickly.

\[ \text{Inventory turnover} = \frac{\text{cost of goods sold}}{\text{Inventory}} \]

Debt ratio:
Debt ratio helps the entrepreneur assess the firm’s ability to meet all its

Note: Solve these papers by yourself

www.vuaskari.com
obligations. It is also a measure of risk because debt also consists of a fixed commitment. The calculation:

\[
\text{Debt ratio} = \frac{\text{Total liabilities}}{\text{Total assets}}

Debt to equity ratio:
It assesses the firm’s capital structure. It provides a measure of risk by considering the funds invested by creditors and investors. The higher the percentage of debt, the greater the degree of risk to any of the creditors. The calculation:

\[
\text{Debt to equity ratio} = \frac{\text{Total liabilities}}{\text{Stockholder’s equity}}

Profitability Ratios:
Net profit margin represents the venture’s ability to translate sales into profits. You can also use gross profit as another measure of profitability. It is important to know what is reasonable in the particular industry as well as to measure these ratios over time. The calculation:

\[
\text{Net profit margin} = \frac{\text{net profit}}{\text{Net sales}}

Return on investment:
It measures the ability of the venture to manage its total investment in assets. By substituting stockholders’ equity for assets, you can also calculate a return on equity. The calculation:

\[
\text{Return on investment} = \frac{\text{net profit}}{\text{Total assets}}

The result of this calculation will also need to be compared to industry data. As the firm grows, it will be important to use these ratios in conjunction with all other financial statements to provide an understanding of how the firm is performing.

Question No: 44 (Marks: 10)
Suppose you have started a new venture of a non-profit organization. While organizing the structure of your “Emergency Team,” which will participate in disaster relief activities, what factors you will consider?

Question No: 45 (Marks: 10)

members as well as sales manager. This increased productivity can create competitive advantage in following three ways;
1-It can reduce cost
2-It can increase sales revenue
3-It can increase market share

Quick Information Transfer:
Sales staff working in fields can send information more frequently to the management rather after one week. This will provide management with current information which they will be able to use efficiently. Response time between management and staff will greatly reduced .In this way company will become more alert and vigilance.

Increased Customer satisfaction:
This system will increase customer satisfaction provided there are used wisely. If the information which is obtained from this system is used in such a way that it exceeds the match the customer expectations and the staff uses this system to serve their customers more expertly and diligently then customer satisfaction can be increased. This will also provide a competitive advantage as high customer satisfaction leads to high customer loyalty and reduce customer acquisition costs and also reduce price elasticity of demand which is consequently increase profit margin.

Question No: 42 (Marks: 5)
Enlist few disadvantages of acquisitions.

DISADVANTAGES OF AN ACQUISITION
• Marginal success record
  Most ventures for sale have an erratic, or even unprofitable, record. It is important to review the records and meet important constituents to assess the future potential.
• Overconfidence in ability
  Even though the entrepreneur brings new ideas, the venture may never be successful for reasons not possible to resolve
• Key employee loss
  Often when a business changes hands key employees also leave. In a service business, it is difficult to separate the actual service from the person who performs it. Incentives can sometimes be used to assure that key employees will remain with the business.
  Overvalued if the entrepreneur has to pay too much for a business, the return on investment will not be acceptable. The entrepreneur will need to establish a reasonable payback to justify the investment.

Suppose you are working in ABC Company as Marketing Manager. Your company wants to launch a new venture in the Service based business. What steps your marketing plan will include?

STEPS IN PREPARING THE MARKETING PLAN

Step 1: Defining the Business Situation

The situation analysis is a review of where the company has been and considers many of the environmental factors. The entrepreneur should provide a review of past performance of the product and the company. Industry analysis should include information on market size, growth rate, suppliers, new entries, and economic conditions.

Step 2: Defining Target Market/Opportunities and Threats

The entrepreneur should have a good idea of who the customer or target market will be. The defined target market will usually represent one or more segments of the entire market. Market segmentation is the process of dividing the market into smaller homogeneous groups. The process of segmenting is:

a. Decide what general market or industry you wish to pursue.

b. Divide the market into smaller groups based on characteristics of the customer.

c. Select segment or segments to target.

d. Develop marketing plan integrating the parts of the marketing mix.

Step 3: Considering Strengths and Weaknesses

It is important for the entrepreneur to consider its strengths and weaknesses.

Step 4: Establishing Goals and Objectives

Before strategy decisions can be outlined, the entrepreneur must establish realistic marketing goals and objectives. These answer the question "Where do we want to go?" These goals should specify such things as market share, profit, sales, market penetration, pricing policy, and advertising support. Not all goals and objectives must be quantified. It is a good idea to limit the number of goals to between six and eight.

Step 5: Defining Marketing Strategy and Action Programs

Strategy and action decisions respond to the question "How do we get there?" It incorporates:

1. Product or Service

   This includes a description of the product and may include more than the physical characteristics. It involves packaging, brand name, price, warranty, image, service, features, and style.

2. Customer Service

   - Meeting customer needs and creating loyalty involves a number of low-cost steps:
   - In writing develop a statement of customer service principles. Train those employees who have direct contact with customers.
   - Establish a process for evaluating customer service.
   - Reward employees who are most effective in providing quality customer service.
   - Make regular contact with customers.
   - Invest in quality telephone equipment.
   - Meet customer expectations.

3. Pricing.
One of the difficult decisions is determining the appropriate price for the product. Factors such as costs, discounts, freight, and markups must be considered. Marketing research can help determine a reasonable price that consumers are willing to pay.

4. Distribution.
This factor provides utility or makes the product convenient to purchase when it is needed. This variable must be consistent with other marketing mix variables. Type of channel, number of intermediaries and location of members should be described. Regardless of the type of business, it is usually necessary for the new venture to have a website. The Internet will become an increasingly important medium for information and distribution. Direct mail or telemarketing may be considered. Direct mail marketing is one of the simplest and lowest in entry costs. But the direct-marketing or Internet strategies are not a guarantee for success. The entrepreneur should evaluate all possible options for distribution.

5. Promotion.
The entrepreneur needs to inform customers as to the product’s availability using advertising media such as print, radio, or television. Usually television is too expensive unless cable television is a viable option. Larger markets can be reached using direct mail, trade magazines, or newspapers. A website may also create awareness and promote the product and services of the venture. It is possible to make use of publicity as a means of introduction. It is important that the marketing strategy and action programs be specific and detailed enough to guide the entrepreneur through the first year.

Step 6: Coordination of the Planning Process
The management team must coordinate the planning process. The entrepreneur may be the only person involved but may lack experience in preparing the plan. Assistance is available from many sources, such as the SBA.

Step 7: Designing Responsibility for Implementation
The plan must be implemented effectively to meet all of the desired goals and objectives. Someone must take the responsibility for implementing each decision made in the marketing plan.

Step 8: Budgeting the Marketing Strategy
Planning decisions must also consider the costs involved in the implementation of these decisions. This budgeting will be useful in preparing the financial plan.

Step 9: Implementation of the Marketing Plan
The marketing plan is meant to be a commitment to a specific strategy. A commitment to make adjustments as needed by market conditions is also valuable.

Step 10: Monitoring Progress of Marketing Actions
Monitoring of the plan involves tracking specific results of the marketing effort. What is monitored is dependent on the specific goals and objectives outlined.

statement will you use in order to calculate the net profit? Also discuss its key feature.

A. The entrepreneur should also prepare a projected balance sheet depicting the condition of the business at the end of the first year.
   1. The pro forma balance sheet summarizes the assets, liabilities, and net worth of the entrepreneurs.
   2. Every business transaction affects the balance sheet.
   3. The balance sheet is a picture of the business at one moment in time and does not cover a period of time.

B. Assets.
   • Assets represent everything of value that is owned by the business.
   • The assets are categorized as current or fixed.
   • Value is not necessary replacement cost-it is the actual cost expended for the asset.
   • Current assets include cash and anything that will be converted into cash within a year.
   • Fixed assets are those that will be used over a long period of time.
   • Management of receivables, or money owed by customers, is important to the business’ cash flow of the business.

C. Liabilities.
   1. Liabilities accounts represent everything owed to creditors.
   2. Current liabilities are due within a year.
   3. Others are long-term debts.
   4. It is often necessary to delay payments of bills in order to more effectively manage cash flow.

D. Owners Equity.
   1. This amount represents the excess of all assets over all liabilities.
   2. Owners equity represents the net worth of the business.
   3. Any profit from the business will also be included in the net worth as retained earnings.

Question No: 45 (Marks: 10)
Few years age Walls Acquired Polka. Being an entrepreneur if you are in the state of acquiring other firm then what should you consider?

An acquisition is the purchase of a company or a part of it in such a way that the acquired company is completely absorbed and no longer exists. Acquisitions can provide an excellent way to grow a business and enter new markets. A key issue is agreeing on a price. Often the structure of the deal can be more important to the parties than the actual price. A prime concern is to ensure that the acquisition fits into the overall direction of the strategic plan.

DETERMINING THE PRICE FOR AN ACQUISITION

Some of the key factors used in determining price for an acquisition are assets, owner’s equity, earnings, stock value, customer base, personnel and image. The price paid should provide the opportunity to get a reasonable payback and good return on the investment.

Valuation Approaches

Ratios measuring profitability, activity, and liquidity can also be helpful in evaluation. Using the asset valuation method, the entrepreneur values the underlying worth of the business based on its assets.

a. The figure obtained using book value should be only a starting point, as it reflects the accounting practices of the company.
b. In adjusted book value the stated book value is adjusted to reflect the actual market value.
c. Another method is to determine the amount that could be realized if the assets were sold or liquidated.
d. The final method is the replacement value—the current cost of replacing the tangible assets.

Another way of evaluating a firm is to calculate the prospective cash flow from the business.

a. Positive cash flow is cash received from the operation of the business.
b. A negative cash flow, signifying the company is losing money, can have tax advantages.
c. Final cash flow value, the terminal value, is a source of cash when the entrepreneur sells the business.

Earnings valuation capitalizes earnings of a company by multiplying earnings by the appropriate factor (the price earnings multiple.)

a. The question of earnings involves determining the appropriate earnings period as well as the type of earnings.
b. The earnings period can be either historical earnings or future earnings.
c. Earnings before interest and taxes (EBIT) are the most frequently used.
d. It is appropriate to select a price earnings multiple of a publicly traded stock similar to the company being evaluated. The valuation of a business is important in determining the feasibility of the acquisition.

The marketing plan should answer three basic questions:

1) Where have we been? - The history of the marketplace, marketing strengths and weaknesses, and market opportunities.

2) Where do we want to go (short term)? - Marketing objectives and goals in the next twelve months.

3) How do we get there? - Specific marketing strategy that will be implemented. The marketing plan should be a guide for implementing marketing decision-making and not a superficial document. The mere organization of the thinking process involved in preparing a marketing plan can be helpful in understanding and recognizing critical issues. (Handouts Page No. 61)

1. If the entrepreneur is a sole proprietor, he or she will be responsible for the budgeting decisions.
2. In a partnership, or where employees exist, the initial budgeting process may begin with one of these individuals.
3. Final determination of budgets will ultimately rest with the owners or entrepreneurs.

B. in the preparation of the pro forma income statement, the entrepreneur must first develop a sales budget, an estimate of the expected volume of sales by month.
1. From sales forecasts, the entrepreneur will determine the cost of these sales.
2. Estimated ending inventory will also be included.

C. Production or Manufacturing Budget.
1. This budget provides a basis for projecting cash flows for the cost of goods produced.
2. The important information in this budget is the actual production required each month and the needed inventory to allow for changes in demand.
3. This budget reflects seasonal demand or marketing programs, which can increase demand and inventory.
4. The operating budget is an important document, as the pro forma income statement will only reflect the actual costs of goods.

D. Operating Budget.
1. Next the entrepreneur can focus on operating costs.
2. Fixed expenses (incurred regardless of sales volume) include rent, utilities, salaries, interest, depreciation, and insurance.
3. The entrepreneur will need to calculate variable expenses, which may change from month to month depending on sales volume, such as advertising and selling expenses.

E. Capital budgets are intended to provide a basis for evaluating expenditures that will impact the business for more than one year.
1. A capital budget may project expenditures for new equipment, vehicles, or new facilities.
2. These decisions can include the computation of the cost of capital and the anticipated return on investment using present value methods.
3. The entrepreneur should enlist the assistance of an accountant.

Question No: 42 (Marks: 5)

It is said that advertising agencies are meant for the promotional tools. Why do you think that it is a correct statement?

Advertising agencies can provide many promotional services. The advertising agency is an independent business organization composed of creative and business people who develop, prepare, and place advertising in media for its customers. The agency can provide assistance in marketing research. It is important to determine whether the agency can fulfil all of the needs of the new venture. A checklist of items that the entrepreneur may consider in evaluating an agency is useful. The agency should support the marketing program and assist the entrepreneur in getting the product effectively launched.
Question No: 43 (Marks: 10)
An "S Corporation" is a corporation which has elected to have its profits pass through to its shareholders, in the same manner as a partnership or sole proprietorship. Write down the pros and cons of "S Corporation".
Answer:
S CORPORATIONS
The S Corporation combines the tax advantages of the partnership and the corporation.
1. It is designed so that the venture income is declared as personal income on a pro rata basis.
2. Shareholders benefit from all of the income and the deductions of the business.
Prior to passage of the 1996 Small Business Protection Act, rules governing the S corporation were considered too rigid.
ADVANTAGES OF AN S CORPORATION
1. Capital gains or losses are treated as personal income.
2. Shareholders retain limited liability protection.
3. It is not subject to a minimum tax, as C corporations are.
4. Stock may be transferred to low-income-bracket family members.
5. Stock may be voting or nonvoting.
6. This form may use the cash method of accounting.
7. Corporate long-term capital gains and losses are deductible by the shareholders.
DISADVANTAGES OF AN S CORPORATION
1. Even with the new regulations, there are still some restrictions.
2. If the corporation earns less than $100,000, then the C Corporation would have a lower tax liability.
3. The S Corporation may not deduct most fringe benefits for shareholders.
4. The S Corporation must adopt a calendar year for tax purposes.
5. Only one class of stock, common stock is permitted.
6. The net loss of the S Corporation is limited.
Question No: 44 (Marks: 10)
suppose you want to calculate the net worth of your business. What kind of statement will you use in order to calculate the net profit? Also discuss its key feature.
A. The entrepreneur should also prepare a projected balance sheet depicting the condition of the business at the end of the first year.
1. The pro forma balance sheet summarizes the assets, liabilities, and net worth of the entrepreneurs.
2. Every business transaction affects the balance sheet.
3. The balance sheet is a picture of the business at one moment in time and does not cover a period of time.
B. Assets.
• Assets represent everything of value that is owned by the business.
• The assets are categorized as current or fixed.
• Value is not necessary replacement cost-it is the actual cost expended for the asset.
• Current assets include cash and anything that will be converted into cash within a year.
• Fixed assets are those that will be used over a long period of time.
• Management of receivables, or money owed by customers, is important to the business’ cash flow of the business.

C. Liabilities.
1. Liabilities accounts represent everything owed to creditors.
2. Current liabilities are due within a year.
3. Others are long-term debts.
4. It is often necessary to delay payments of bills in order to more effectively manage cash flow.

D. Owners Equity.
1. This amount represents the excess of all assets over all liabilities.
2. Owners equity represents the net worth of the business.
3. Any profit from the business will also be included in the net worth as retained earnings.

Question No: 45 (Marks: 10)
Product or service is the basis of building the marketing plan. What are the major factors which should be included while writing the marketing plan of a product or service?

STEPS IN PREPARING THE MARKETING PLAN
Step 1: Defining the Business Situation
The situation analysis is a review of where the company has been and considers many of the environmental factors. The entrepreneur should provide a review of past performance of the product and the company. Industry analysis should include information on market size, growth rate, suppliers, new entries, and economic conditions.

Step 2: Defining Target Market/Opportunities and Threats
The entrepreneur should have a good idea of who the customer or target market will be. The defined target market will usually represent one or more segments of the entire market. Market segmentation is the process of dividing the market into smaller homogeneous groups. The process of segmenting is:
- Decide what general market or industry you wish to pursue.
- Divide the market into smaller groups based on characteristics of the customer.
- Select segment or segments to target.
- Develop marketing plan integrating the parts of the marketing mix.

Step 3: Considering Strengths and Weaknesses
It is important for the entrepreneur to consider its strengths and weaknesses.

Step 4: Establishing Goals and Objectives
Before strategy decisions can be outlined, the entrepreneur must establish realistic marketing goals and objectives. These answer the question "Where do we want to go?" These goals should specify such things as market share, profit, sales, market penetration, pricing policy, and advertising support. Not all goals and objectives must be quantified. It is a good idea to limit the number of goals to between six and eight.
Step 5: Defining Marketing Strategy and Action Programs

Strategy and action decisions respond to the question "How do we get there?" It incorporates:

1. Product or Service
   - This includes a description of the product and may include more than the physical characteristics. It involves packaging, brand name, price, warranty, image, service, features, and style.

2. Customer Service
   - Meeting customer needs and creating loyalty involves a number of low-cost steps:
     - In writing develop a statement of customer service principles. Train those employees who have direct contact with customers.
     - Establish a process for evaluating customer service.
     - Reward employees who are most effective in providing quality customer service.
     - Make regular contact with customers.
     - Invest in quality telephone equipment.
     - Meet customer expectations.
     - Customer service is especially important for e-businesses.

3. Pricing.
   - One of the difficult decisions is determining the appropriate price for the product. Factors such as costs, discounts, freight, and markups must be considered. Marketing research can help determine a reasonable price that consumers are willing to pay.

4. Distribution.
   - This factor provides utility or makes the product convenient to purchase when it is needed. This variable must be consistent with other marketing mix variables. Type of channel, number of intermediaries and location of members should be described. Regardless of the type of business, it is usually necessary for the new venture to have a website. The Internet will become an increasingly important medium for information and distribution. Direct mail or telemarketing may be considered. Direct mail marketing is one of the simplest and lowest in entry costs. But the direct-marketing or Internet strategies are not a guarantee for success. The entrepreneur should evaluate all possible options for distribution.

5. Promotion.
   - The entrepreneur needs to inform customers as to the product’s availability using advertising media such as print, radio, or television. Usually television is too expensive unless cable television is a viable option. Larger markets can be reached using direct mail, trade magazines, or newspapers. A website may also create awareness and promote the product and services of the venture. It is possible to make use of publicity as a means of introduction. It is important that the marketing strategy and action programs be specific and detailed enough to guide the entrepreneur through the first year.

Step 6: Coordination of the Planning Process

The management team must coordinate the planning process. The entrepreneur may be the only person involved but may lack experience in preparing the plan. Assistance is available from many sources, such as the SBA.
Step 7: Designing Responsibility for Implementation
The plan must be implemented effectively to meet all of the desired goals and objectives. Someone must take the responsibility for implementing each decision made in the marketing plan.

Step 8: Budgeting the Marketing Strategy
Planning decisions must also consider the costs involved in the implementation of these decisions. This budgeting will be useful in preparing the financial plan.

Step 9: Implementation of the Marketing Plan
The marketing plan is meant to be a commitment to a specific strategy. A commitment to make adjustments as needed by market conditions is also valuable.

Step 10: Monitoring Progress of Marketing Actions
Monitoring of the plan involves tracking specific results of the marketing effort. What is monitored is dependent on the specific goals and objectives outlined.

Question No: 41  (Marks: 5)
What is the purpose of a marketing plan? What should be the perspective of time in a marketing plan?

MARKETING PLAN Purpose and Timing of the Marketing Plan

The marketing plan establishes how the entrepreneur will effectively compete and operate in the marketplace. Marketing planning should be an annual activity focusing on decisions related to the marketing mix variables. The marketing plan section should focus on strategies for the first three years of the venture. For the first year, goals and strategies should be projected monthly.

For years two and three, market results should be projected based on longer-term goals. Preparing an annual marketing plan becomes the basis for planning other aspects of the business.

Question No: 42  (Marks: 5)
Differentiate between current ratio and acid test ratio.

Current ratio

It is commonly used to measure the short-term solvency of the venture or its ability to meet its short-term debts. The current liabilities must be covered from cash or its equivalent. The formula is:

\[
\text{Current ratio} = \frac{\text{current assets}}{\text{current liabilities}}

While a ratio of 2:1 is generally considered favourable the entrepreneur should also compare this ratio with industry standards.

Acid test ratio

It is a more rigorous test of the short-term liquidity of the venture. It eliminates inventory, which is the least liquid current asset.

The formula is:

\text{Acid test} = \frac{\text{current assets} - \text{inventory}}{\text{ratio current liabilities}}

Usually a 1:1 ratio would be considered favourable.

Question No: 43  (Marks: 10)
Suppose you have started your own venture of audit and taxation firm. An entrepreneur comes in your firm to know about the different tax issues in different entities of business. How will you deliver different suggestions?

TAX ATTRIBUTES OF FORMS OF BUSINESS

A. Tax Issues for Proprietorship:

For the proprietorship the IRS treats the business as the individual owner. All income is personal income and the business is not taxed as a separate entity. The proprietorship has some tax advantages compared to the corporation.

a. There is no double tax on profits.

Note: Solve these papers by yourself

This VU Group is not responsible for any solved content
b. There is no capital stock tax or penalty for retained earnings.

B. Tax Issues for Partnership:

The partnership’s tax advantages and disadvantages are similar to the proprietorship. Limited partnerships can provide unique tax advantages. Both the partnership and proprietorship have a legal identity distinct from the partners, but this identity is only for accounting purposes. The income is distributed based on the partnership agreement, and the owners then report their share as personal income.

C. Tax Issues for Corporation:

The corporation has the advantage of being able to take many deductions not otherwise available. The disadvantage is that dividends are taxed twice. This double taxation can be avoided if the income is distributed as salary. The corporation tax may also be lower than the individual rate.

Question No: 44 (Marks: 10)

An "S Corporation" is a corporation which has elected to have its profits pass through to its shareholders, in the same manner as a partnership or sole proprietorship. Write down the pros and cons of "S Corporation".

4. Stock may be transferred to low-income-bracket family members.
5. Stock may be voting or nonvoting.
6. This form may use the cash method of accounting.
7. Corporate long-term capital gains and losses are deductible by the shareholders.

DISADVANTAGES OF AN S CORPORATION

1. Even with the new regulations, there are still some restrictions.
2. If the corporation earns less than $100,000, then the C Corporation would have a lower tax liability.
3. The S Corporation may not deduct most fringe benefits for shareholders.
4. The S Corporation must adopt a calendar year for tax purposes.
5. Only one class of stock, common stock is permitted.
6. The net loss of the S Corporation is limited.

Question No: 45 (Marks: 10)

When and why the Punjab Small Industries Corporation (PSIC) was established? How it is helpful in promoting small industries?

Punjab Small Industries Corporation (PSIC)

In the province of Punjab, PSIC was established in 1972 as an autonomous body for the promotion and development of the small-scale industries in the province. The PSIC covers the critical areas of investment promotion and provision of credits for setting up new industries and modernization of the existing ones. It also promotes the common facility center, technology transfer, guidance, handicrafts development and design.
facilities.
(a) Financing and Loans
PSIC is providing two types of loans to its clients, working capital and capital investment loans. The maximum limit of loan is RS. 7.5 Lac. There are district officers appointed for monitoring the loan recovery and in the case of unrecoverable loans, they are transferred to the revenue authorities. PSIC has managed to recover 81.6% of all loans given out. Disbursing Rs. 1768.537 million to 6339 units through its 8 regional offices (till 31-02-2001) the debt equity ration for loan up to Rs. 7.5 Lac is 70:30.

(b) Industrial Estates
PSIC has developed 14 industrial estates in various areas of the Punjab. The costs of land within these industrial states have been subsidized to allow the development of the small-scale sector.

(c) Services and Programs
PSIC has also launched “Rural Industrialization Program” to control unemployment and strengthen the marginal household income through stimulation of industrial growth in the urban and rural areas of the Punjab. PSIC has established various types of service centers e.g. metal industries development center, Sialkot, Engineering service centers. Gujranwala, institute of pottery development, Shahdara etc.

Question No: 41  (Marks: 5)
What is the purpose of a marketing plan? What should be the perspective of time in a marketing plan?

MARKETING PLAN Purpose and Timing of the Marketing Plan

The marketing plan establishes how the entrepreneur will effectively compete and operate in the marketplace. Marketing planning should be an annual activity focusing on decisions related to the marketing mix variables. The marketing plan section should focus on strategies for the first three years of the venture. For the first year, goals and strategies should be projected monthly.

For years two and three, market results should be projected based on longer-term goals.

Preparing an annual marketing plan becomes the basis for planning other aspects of the business.

A. before developing the pro forma income statement, the entrepreneur should prepare operating and capital budgets.
1. If the entrepreneur is a sole proprietor, he or she will be responsible for the budgeting decisions.
2. In a partnership, or where employees exist, the initial budgeting process may begin with one of these individuals.
3. Final determination of budgets will ultimately rest with the owners or entrepreneurs.

B. in the preparation of the pro forma income statement, the entrepreneur must first develop a sales budget, an estimate of the expected volume of sales by month.
1. From sales forecasts, the entrepreneur will determine the cost of these sales.
2. Estimated ending inventory will also be included.

C. Production or Manufacturing Budget.
1. This budget provides a basis for projecting cash flows for the cost of goods produced.
2. The important information in this budget is the actual production required each month and the needed inventory to allow for changes in demand.
3. This budget reflects seasonal demand or marketing programs, which can increase demand and inventory.
4. The operating budget is an important document, as the pro forma income statement will only reflect the actual costs of goods.

D. Operating Budget.
1. Next the entrepreneur can focus on operating costs.
2. Fixed expenses (incurred regardless of sales volume) include rent, utilities, salaries, interest, depreciation, and insurance.
3. The entrepreneur will need to calculate variable expenses, which may change from month to month depending on sales volume, such as advertising and selling expenses.

E. Capital budgets are intended to provide a basis for evaluating expenditures that will impact the business for more than one year.
1. A capital budget may project expenditures for new equipment, vehicles, or new facilities.
2. These decisions can include the computation of the cost of capital and the anticipated return on investment using present value methods.
3. The entrepreneur should enlist the assistance of an accountant.

Question No: 42  (Marks: 5)
Joint venture is one of the oldest forms of the alliance. Comment on this statement

Joint ventures:
Two firms get together and form a third company in which they share the equity.

Joint ventures have been used by entrepreneurs in two situations:
1. When the entrepreneur wants to purchase local knowledge and an established facility.
2. When rapid entry into a market it needed. The keys to success of joint ventures have not been well understood. Reasons for forming a joint venture today are different than those in the past. Originally, joint ventures were used for trading purposes and were one of the oldest ways of transacting business. Joint ventures in the U.S. took the form of vertical joint ventures used by mining concerns and railroads. Motives for the significant increase in the use of joint ventures:
   a. To share the costs and risks of an uncertain project.
   b. To gain synergy between the two firms.
   c. To obtain a competitive advantage.
   d. To enter markets that pose entrance difficulties.

entities of business. How will you deliver different suggestions?

TAX ATTRIBUTES OF FORMS OF BUSINESS

A. Tax Issues for Proprietorship:
   For the proprietorship the IRS treats the business as the individual owner. All income is personal income and the business is not taxed as a separate entity. The proprietorship has some tax advantages compared to the corporation.
   a. There is no double tax on profits.
   b. There is no capital stock tax or penalty for retained earnings.

B. Tax Issues for Partnership:
   The partnership’s tax advantages and disadvantages are similar to the proprietorship. Limited partnerships can provide unique tax advantages. Both the partnership and proprietorship have a legal identity distinct from the partners, but this identity is only for accounting purposes. The income is distributed based on the partnership agreement, and the owners then report their share as personal income.

C. Tax Issues for Corporation:
   The corporation has the advantage of being able to take many deductions not otherwise available. The disadvantage is that dividends are taxed twice. This double taxation can be avoided if the income is distributed as salary. The corporation tax may also be lower than the individual rate.

Question No: 44   (Marks: 10)

Why the firms use bootstrap financing? What are the benefits of having this approach?

Whether this approach minimizes the cost of outside capital?

BOOTSTRAP FINANCING:
   Bootstrap financing is particularly important at start-up and early years of the venture when capital is more expensive. This type of financing is normally used and important at the start up of the years. Bootstrap financing is using at early years of the project when capital is more costly.

Benefits
   7- By this project can start smoothly.
   8- In every project a company needs a finance to start the project therefore this type of financing help to start the project smoothly.
   9- To handle the project initiation expanses this financing helps a lot.
   10- In those projects in which advance payment is not involved this financing is required.
   11- In those projects in which time is a constraint and important factor, this type of financing is used.
   12- When capital is available then project speed will be faster at start and it helps for smooth completion of project.

Cost of Outside Capital:

Note: Solve these papers by yourself

This VU Group is not responsible for any solved content
By using this approach cost of the outside capital is reduced and it is easy for a firm to make more profit. Normally cost of outside capital decreases a company capacity to make more money. If outside capital is present then it can decrease the company’s flexibility and hinder the creativity of the entrepreneur. Therefore outside capital may cause more trouble and problems in the project. Therefore outside capital only taken after exploring the all internal sources of funds

Outside capital has many costs:
1. It takes time to rise outside capital when the company can least afford the time.
2. Outside capital often decreases a firm’s drive to make money.
3. The availability of capital increases the impulse to spend.
4. Outside capital can decrease the company’s flexibility and hamper the creativity of the entrepreneur.
5. Outside capital may cause more disruption and problems in the venture than without it.

In spite of these potential problems, an entrepreneur at times needs equity funding.
1. Outside capital should only be sought after all possible internal sources of funds have been explored.
2. When outside funds are obtained, the entrepreneur should not forget the basics of the business.

Question No: 45 (Marks: 10)

When and why the Punjab Small Industries Corporation (PSIC) was established? How it is helpful in promoting small industries?

Punjab Small Industries Corporation (PSIC)

In the province of Punjab, PSIC was established in 1972 as an autonomous body for the promotion and development of the small-scale industries in the province. The PSIC covers the critical areas of investment promotion and provision of credits for setting up new industries and modernization of the existing ones. It also promotes the common facility center, technology transfer, guidance, handicrafts development, and design facilities.

(a) Financing and Loans

PSIC is providing two types of loans to its clients, working capital and capital investment loans. The maximum limit of loan is Rs. 7.5 Lac. There are district officers appointed for monitoring the loan recovery and in the case of unrecoverable loans, they are transferred to the revenue authorities. PSIC has managed to recover 81.6% of all loans given out. Disbursing Rs. 1768.537 million to 6339 units through its 8 regional offices (till 31-02-2001) the debt equity ratio for loans up to Rs. 7.5 Lac is 70:30.

(b) Industrial Estates

PSIC has developed 14 industrial estates in various areas of the Punjab. The costs of land within these industrial states have been subsidized to allow the development of the small-scale sector.

(c) Services and Programs

PSIC has also launched “Rural Industrialization Program” to control unemployment. and strengthen the marginal household income through stimulation of industrial growth in the urban and rural areas of the Punjab. PSIC has established various types of service centers e.g. metal industries development center, Sialkot, Engineering service centers, Gujranwala, institute of pottery development, Shahdara etc.
